Local Digital Agency Named Top in Denver

DENVER, April 7, 2019 — Local marketing agency, HIVE Digital Strategy, was named one of Denver's Top Digital Agencies for 2019 by International Marketing Software provider HubSpot.

“Earning a Top Digital Agency designation is meaningful because of the client retention aspect that is included in HubSpot's consideration process. This confirms that we are successfully partnering with our customers to reach their marketing and business goals utilizing inbound marketing tactics and a great digital tool that captures these tactics in one portal for comprehensive data analysis,” said Dustin Brackett, CEO and Founder of HIVE.

For the second year, HIVE has been included in the Top Digital Agency listing for the Denver area. Hubspot uses a combination of metrics, looking at monthly recurring revenue (MRR) acquired and managed, retention, software engagement, and actual inbound marketing success to determine agencies that qualify for the designation.

Kerri Harrington, HubSpot Channel Consultant, expanded on the importance of this honor, “A major key is the ability to maintain that managed MRR which is a testament to delivering superior service that keeps clients onboard year after year.”

HIVE Digital Strategy is a full-service Digital Inbound Marketing Agency in Denver, Colorado. HIVE partners with B2B, B2C, and Nonprofit clients to improve their digital strategy, execution, lead generation, and customer acquisition processes through digital marketing, digital design, marketing automation, and public relations initiatives.
